Planets and Academic Performance Research Project

When the brain's energy is consciously directed to the mid-brain, great intelligence is spontaneously awakened. The ancients of India called this as Divine 'Heart' Intelligence. This is the fundamental principle of Mind Science developed by Dr. Baskaran Pillai, US-based Indian scholar and a visionary on human intelligence and evolution. "Mind Science", says Dr. Pillai "is the realization of Einstein's vision of merging ancient wisdom with modern science."

Pillai Center for Mind Science, headquartered in Pittsburgh, PA, USA, is geared toward enhancing human intelligence and positively transforming every aspect of life. Pillai Center has funded several Research Projects as a service to the student community. These Projects enable the students to enhance their inner resources, such as intelligence, work efficiency, planned thinking, thus establishing themselves as the 'top brand' with their improved academic performance.

The primary objective of PAP (Planets and Academic Performance Research Project), implemented in collaboration with leading Vedic service provider AstroVed.Com Pvt Ltd, is to objectively study the impact and relationship of planetary influences on individual students with regard to different academic disciplines.

PAP will answer the following questions:

1. What planetary positioning makes a student score 'high level' marks (above 70%)?
2. What planetary positioning makes a student score 'middle level' marks (below 70%)?
3. What planetary positioning makes a student score 'low level' marks?
4. What planetary positioning makes a student score 'fail' marks?

Recent scientific studies have revealed the wavelengths of the 9 planets, and their highest and lowest energy levels. Prof. Satya Narayanan, Vice-Chancellor of SRM University, has expressed his thought-provoking views regarding the relationship between spiritual science and western science. He alludes to the human genetic structure in the light of sciences.

The follow-up objective of PAP is to suggest correctional measures for improving student grades, once a connection between planets and academic performance is established.

We invite all academic institutions, such as Elementary Schools, High Schools, Colleges and Universities, to participate in this 2-tier research program.

'Tier 1' involves statistical analysis to discover the link between planets and academic intelligence. In 'Tier 2', we will provide correctional programs to rectify deficiencies in the students' learning skills.

The corrections will be specific to each subject, such as mathematics, science, languages, and so on.

Interested institutions can contact the PAP Coordinator and invite our research team to their institution to help their students.
